DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the first, second, third and fourth locations, must be shown and labeled or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Allowable Subject Matter

The indicated allowability of claims 4 & 9 is withdrawn in view of the reference(s) to Handique et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 6,130,098 A). Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 1 – 8, 11, 12, 14 – 25 & 29 – 31, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Handique et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 6,130,098 A) (hereinafter referred to as “Handique”).

Regarding claims 1 – 4, 12, 18, 19, 30 & 31, Handique teaches a microfluidic apparatus comprising: first (810A) and second (810B) planar substrates; a microfluidic network (e.g., channels & chambers located in glass substrate 810A); a gas vent (870); and a first gas actuator comprising air chamber 880 located in the first substrate and heater 891 located in the second substrate 810B. The glass substrate (810A) is bonded or sealed to the silicon substrate (810B) (see figure 8A; col. 20, lines 5 – 14). Handique teaches the incorporation of a hydrophobic region within the gas vent (70) (see figure 3A; col. 14, lines 44 – 50). Handique teaches the incorporation of a processor or controlling circuitry with the disclosed microfluidic apparatus (see col. 4, lines 4 – 10+). The Handique apparatus illustrated in figure 8A below appears to be equivalent to the applicant's apparatus shown in figure 2 of the applicant's disclosure, although differing in the number of heating elements and gas actuators. As shown in figure 5, Handique teaches the further incorporation of successive gas actuators, which comprise the heaters, along a channel in order to facilitate fluid transport through the channel (see col. 15, line 41 – col. 16, line 23; figure 5).

Regarding claims 5 – 7, 15 & 16, Handique teaches that zones, i.e., channels & chambers, which can be utilized for sample processing, are located in glass substrate 810A (see col. 20, lines 5 – 13). The Courts have held that a statement of intended use in an apparatus claim fails to distinguish over a prior art apparatus. See In re Sinex, 309 F.2d 488, 492, 135 USPQ 302, 305 (CCPA 1962). The Courts have held that the manner of operating an apparatus does not differentiate an apparatus claim from the prior art, if the prior art apparatus teaches all of the structural limitations of the claim. See Ex Parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (BPAI 1987). Furthermore, the Courts have held that apparatus claims must be structurally distinguishable from the prior art in terms of structure, not function. See In re Danley, 120 USPQ 528, 531 (CCPA 1959); and Hewlett-Packard Co. V. Bausch and Lomb, Inc., 15 USPQ2d 1525, 1528 (Fed. Cir. 1990) (see MPEP § 2114).

Regarding claims 8 & 17, Handique teaches the incorporation of a detection zone (E) (see col. 13, lines 19 – 35; figure 1).

Regarding claims 11 & 14, Handique teaches the incorporation of valves for sample flow control (see col. 8, lines 23 – 44; col. 16, lines 40 – 61).

Regarding claims 20 – 25 & 29, as discussed above, Handique teaches all of the positively recited structure of the apparatus provided in the claimed method, which merely recites the conventional operation of that apparatus. Regarding process or method claims, a prior art device anticipates a claimed process, if the device carries out the process during normal operation (see MPEP § 2112.02).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the pending claims have been considered, but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

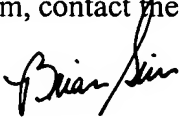

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
